Join us for the AC's next workshop on Accreditation with the Association for Coaching, presented by Jan Brause, a practising accredited coach with the AC. By attending the workshop you will benefit from:

- An introduction to the AC experience-based Accreditation Scheme.
- A chance to ask questions and get clear on the facts.
- A co-coaching opportunity to help you explore what accreditation means to you personally.
- An opportunity to support others in determining their next steps.
- An opportunity to offer your own views on the development of AC accreditation.

This is a Red category event

Jan will give a brief presentation on the AC Accreditation scheme covering:

- Background
- Criteria
- Submission requirements
- Assessment process
- Maintaining accredited status
- Coaching demonstration from Carol Wilson
- Co-coaching in trios on your next step towards accreditation

SPEAKER BIO

Jan Brause

Jan was first trained in Performance Coaching in the mid 1980s when coaching was very new to the UK market. She instantly recognised this as a valuable process for change and personal development and continued to work and develop her coaching skills and strategies through Continuing Professional Development. Jan has been trained in the principles of the GROW coaching model by its originator Graham Alexander and has published several coaching articles for Training Journal and Fenman's Coach the Coach. Jan also has a first class honours degree in Psychology, is a fellow of the CIPD, Member of the Chartered Management Institute, is an INLPTA trained Master NLP Practitioner and an Accredited Coach with the Association for Coaching. Jan now runs her own coaching practice as well as holding Associate Status with other premier coaching organisations, including The Beech Consultancy, a founding Organisational member of AC.
